TRAP FOR AQUEDUCT BOARD.

Penitentiary." Says Merchants' Association Man-Pending Payment to Contractor McDonald Left Over a Week -Hurry Call for Burr Report.

Representatives of the Merchants' Association who went before the Aqueduct Jay Gould, Mrs. Ogden Goelet, Dr. and Mrs Commission yesterday to protest against the payment of $200,000 to Contractor John B. McDonald for building the westerly wall of the Jerome Park reservoir, because, in their opinion, it has not been built according to contract, were told to come again some other day, when they have "proof instead of assumption," as Comptroller Grout put it. Both the Mayor and the Comptroller were present.

George L. Duval, spokesman for the Merchants' Association, said that their documentary evidence was "in the hands of the District Attorney, and Justice Mayer has instructed us not to divulge it."

"Justice Mayer has no right to give any such instructions," said the Comptroller. "He knows it, and the District Attorney knows it. This Aqueduct Board is the proper tribunal to hear this matter. If you can prove anything, prove it here. Otherwise we would like to pay the contractor this money to facilitate the completion of the work."

Duval countered with a challenge "If the Aqueduct Commission," he said, "will certify that it is perfectly satisfied with the way in which the work has been done the Merchants' Association will with-draw its protest against the payment of the money."

Nobody "took him up." Contractor

McDonaid was present, but didn't make a speech. He scribbled the following memorandum instead, which was read by the randum instead, which was read by the secretary of the Commission:

"I ask and expect to receive this money as a simple matter of justice and fair play; but, Mr. President, if the Aqueduct Commission has any lack of confidence in the contractor or the character of his work on the reservoir, for which he is responsible, he will withdraw his request."

After that the question of payment was left over for a week. In the meantime the Merchanta' Association will try to get permission from Justice Mayer to tell the Aqueduct Commission what the evidence It has published most of the evidence is. It has pusses, in the newspapers. President Ten Eyek of the Commission, President Ten Eyek of the Mayor were President Ten Eyck of the Commission, Commissioner Curtis and the Mayor were appointed a committee to select a chief engineer to succeed William R. Hill, who has resigned. A eulogistic biography of Mr. Hill, composed by the Comptroller, was given out at the request of the Mayor.

was given out at the request of the Mayor. It says:

Shortly after the beginning of Mr. Hill's term he recommended certain changes in the plans of the new Croton dam which necessitated the taking down of a large portion of the core wall and embankment at the south end of that portion of the dam already constructed and replacing it by a similar masonry structure. His grounds for this recommendation were the alleged general insecurity of this structure for the purpose intended, and evidenced, among other things, by certain small cracks which he had observed in this core wall. The work was stopped on that portion of the dam, and a commission of expert engineers appointed by the Aqueduct Commissioners approved this recommendation after several months of investigation. This approval was also concurred in by Prof. W. H. Burr and Mr. Nelson P. Lewis, chief engineer of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, who had been asked by the Mayor subsequently to examine the question and report thereon. The removal of this core wall was partially completed in March of this year, and revealed the fact that it was erected upon an insecure foundation, thus confirming the necessity of such removal. It was fortunate that Mr. Hill discovered this condition, otherwise a great catastrophe might have been precipitated upon the community hereafter.

The records of the Aqueduct Commissioners will show the other recommendations of modifications which have been made by Mr. Hill in these plans, as prepared by Mr. Feley, for the construction of the new croton dam and the Jerome Park reservoir. It required both courage and engineering skill to make such recommendations, in view of Mr. Feley's great and well-deserved.

required both courage and engineering ill to make such recommendations, in view Mr. Fteley's great and well-deserved reputation. These plans might naturally have been assumed to be faultless and their literal execution by Mr. Hill would have been expected and readily acquiesced in. Several of the members of his engineer corps, who had been employed in their preparation, did not hesitate to crit c se him and stand for the integrity of the original plans.

Assistant District Attorney Train looked after the Criminal Court end of the matter yesterday, with Mr. De Berard of the Merchants' Association to help him. Mr. De Berard wanted to know whether the Aque-duct Commission had been challenged. Evidently there was a programme.

"Did Duval say," he asked excitedly,
"that if the commission would certify to the work we would withdraw our protest against the payment?

When informed the informed that Duval had so said,

Mr. De Berard exclaimed:
"I hope they certify; I hope they will. Then they will all go to the penitentiary."
"Mayor and Comptroller and all?" was asked.
"Ha, ha, ha!" replied Mr. De Berard.

He wanted to know why the Hill biography didn't say something about the chief en-gineer being up in Middletown getting $10,000 for building reservoirs there at the same time he was away on sick leave from the work that he was being paid $8,000 a year for by this city.

Mayor Low wrote a letter yesterday to William H. Burr, chairman of the special mmission appointed to investigate the Jerome Park reservoir, telling him that his report must be ready by July 18, so that the man who is to be appointed to succeed Chief Engineer Hill may know what he

PLAN TO BREAK SLEUTH HAHN

HE COULDN'T GET INSTRUCTION WHEN SENT TO DESK DUTY.

The Reinstated Detective Sergeant Is or Trial for Using the Wrong Kind of Ink and for Misspelling-Capt. Becker Told Not to Help Him, He Says.

When the Court of Appeals ordered the restoration of 160 detective sergeants who had been reduced to the rank of patrolmen by Commissioner Partridge Gen. Greene assigned forty or fifty of them to desk duty. Although the regular sergeants had been complaining of overwork they didn't welcome the ex-sleuths. Most of the men had had no experience in handling station house records, and as the regular sergeants refused to help them several got into trouble for irregularities.

The latest victim is Detective Sergeant Henry Hahn, who has been doing desk duty in the Union Market station since June 22. He was on trial yesterday before Deputy Commissioner Davis at Police Headquarters. Hahn was for years the wardman of ex-Capt. Vredenburgh and is said to be rich. Hahn is accused by Capt. Becker of the Union Market station of having kept his blotter irregularly. The twenty specifications include wrongly abbreviating and misspelling words, making incomplete entries and using red ink when a greenish-blue should have been used.

Capt. Becker, who read the twenty specifications pointed out that Hahn had abbreviated the words "detective sergeant" to read "decet. Sargt." He also called attention to this entry. "The fifth and sixth section relieved from reserve duty." Cant section relieved from reserve duty." Capt. Becker said this was a very bad error as the word "section" should have been writ-ten "sections."

Lawyer Gruber, for Hahn, asked Capt. Becker what the singular of "section" was. Becker seemed puzzled and finally said:

"Well I can explain that in my own way. I know that if he had only written about the fifth section his spelling would have been correct but when an 's' on 'section.'

Inspector Max Schmittberger, who signed the 'cc mplaint against Hahn, left the room at this point. After Capt. Becar had read a few more specifications. Huan was called to the stand.

POLICE RAIDERS ARE FREED. Because They Took the Advice of a Jerome

Assistant-The 600 Arrests Wrongful. Magistrate Breen in the Tombs police court yesterday dismissed the charge of assault made against Police Inspector Smith, Capt. Hogan and Detectives McAleese and Lynch by the poolroom men after the police had arrested nearly 600 men in the raids of June 26 on warrants for only

The Magistrate in his decision said the acts of the police were "positively wrongful and unlawful," but at the same time Assistant District Attorney Pechner had advised the police to go ahead, and that showed good faith on their part. Then the Magistrate let Mr. Pechner down easily by saying that his error in giving the advice was not surprising, in view of the slight difference in two sections of the Penal Code. The decision is as Warrants of arrest for eighteen persons were issued by me on June 24, each person being described in the warrants, and the offence alleged to have been committed by each of them specifically stated therein. Arrests made by the police outside of the authority given by these warrants, except for a crime committed in their presence, were not only unauthorized, but positively wrongful and unlawful. These warrants dated and issued on June 24, were executed on June 26. The five hundred and odd citizens apprehended, the complainants being among the number, were arrested presumably for something which it was alleged they did on June 26, two days after the date and issuance of the warrants. It is therefore, very clear that in making the arrest of this multitude no pretence can be made that the police were acting directly or indirectly under these warrants. The conduct of the police, therefore, must be judged and disposed of, so far as the arrests complained of are concerned, asthough to warrants were issued at all.

Section 351 of the Peual Cede, while pro-Warrants of arrest for eighteen persons no warrants were issued at all.
Section 351 of the Penal Code, while providing for the punishment of persons who engage in poolselling, bookmaking or regis-engage in poolescing, cookinating or registering or receiving bets, exempts from punishment those who merely place bets. On the other hand, Section 344 not only provides for the punishment of those who keep and maintain gambling houses, but also those who play. This brings us to what might be termed the error in this case.

The learned District Attorney frankly admitted, that before these arrests were made the police authorities obtained advice from his office, and that perhaps owing to the similarity of the two sections referred to, an erroneous advice was inadvertently given by one of his assistants.

From the standpoint of the advice, the police may be presumed to have acted in good faith. Besides, it must be remembered that the complainants were not arrested in a church ering or receiving bets, exempts from pun-the complainants were not arrested in a church nor at a prayer meeting nor in a place that would add to their reputation, but in a noto-rious resort of lawbreakers. In a great cosrious resort of lawbreakers. In a great cos-mopolitan community such as ours, or in any great centre of population, it is not wise to inculcate timidity in those who exercise police powers. To bind the police down to technical metes and bounds would be, from a practical standpoint, to impair their efficiency and effectiveness as preservers of good order.

The charge against these defendants is assault in the third degree. The essence of crime is a criminal cr vicious intent. The police inspector, the police captain and their subordinates proceeded under the advice of one of the prosecuting officers of this county. This in itself rebuts the presumption of criminal or vicious intent, and while the acts complained of are unlawful and may possibly furnish grounds of complaint in civil actions, the essential elements of the crime of assault are absent in these cases and the defendants are accordingly discharged.

Inspector Smith said, after Magistrate Breen had given out his decision, that he Breen had given out his decision, that he regarded the decision as "a great victory for the police." He did not say, however that he and his men would go ahead and make any more such arrests.
